

Ludwik Fleck and His 'Thought Collectives'

11–14 April 2019

Program

Venue:
Center for Urban History
of East Central Europe

The workshop Ludwik Fleck and His 'Thought Collectives' aims at bringing together a person and the city/places/spaces, Ludwik Fleck (1896-1961) and Lviv where he was born, studied, worked, debated, contemplated, and wrote his philosophical and medical texts. It is focusing on the philosophic legacy of Fleck and on the historical context that generated his ideas. Workshop participants explore in details the social landscape of the interwar Lviv where different ethnic, linguistic, and religious groups co-existed and co-created; where various art communities and scientific collectives worked together. They trace changes and adaptations of his legacy in various disciplines and geographies. This scientific meeting will actualize the legacy of Ludwik Fleck, and open opportunities for its further application in the academic and extra-academic contexts.

Organization:

Heidelberg Academy of Sciences and Humanities
Center for Urban History of East Central Europe
Ukrainian Catholic University

Support:

Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft
Collegium Helveticum / Ludwik-Fleck-Zentrum, Zürich

Support of public program:

The Institute for Human Sciences (IWM, Vienna)
Lviv City Council

Thursday, April 11, 2019	From 17:00	Arrival to the Center for Urban History of East Central Europe Registration & Welcoming round
	From 19:00	Reception
Friday, April 12, 2019	9:00-9:30	Opening ceremony
	9:30-11:30	Panel 1. Cultural and Intellectual Milieus of Interwar Lviv Mariana Baidak (Ivan Franko National University of Lviv) When the peace is harder than the war: the inhabitants of Lviv in the first half of the 20-ies Jan Surman (University of Erfurt / Higher School of Economics Moscow) Habsburg Legacies in the Galician Academia: Lviv and Fleck Aleksandra Hnatiuk (Warsaw University) Lviv medical community in 1930s: between hope and challenge Discussant: Iryna Starovoyt (Ukrainian Catholic University) Moderator: Olena Haleta (Ukrainian Catholic University / Ivan Franko National University of Lviv)
	11:30-12:00	Coffee-break

12:00-14:00

Panel 2.

Thought Collectives and Academic Networks of Ludwik Fleck
Daniel Kuby (University of Konstanz)

Ludwik Fleck and the Left Vienna Circle: Networks in the sociology of knowledge

Ihor Karivets (Lviv Polytechnic National University)

Ludwik Fleck and Lviv Philosophical School (1895-1939): Towards Interrelation of Two Different Scientific Fields

Mykhailo Zarichnyi (Ivan Franko National University of Lviv)

Philosophical aspects of the Lviv School of Mathematics

Discussant: Marci Shore (Yale University / IWM Vienna)Moderator: Natalia Otrishchenko (Center for Urban History of East Central Europe)

14:00-15:00

Lunch

15:00-17:00
“Szkocka” with Mykhailo Zarichnyi (Ivan Franko National University of Lviv)

Visit to the Biology department of Lviv Ivan Franko National University, with Svitlana Hnatysh (Ivan Franko National University of Lviv) / Iryna Kurhanova (Lviv Research Institute of Epidemiology and Hygiene)

18:00-20:00

Lviv City Council

Public Program – External Event

Lecture by Marci Shore (Yale University / IWM Vienna)

Die Ungleichzeitigkeit des Gleichzeitigen: Not long ago, when the age of innocence ended, and everything was possible (some background and context for the "real" papers about Fleck)

20:30

Dinner

Saturday,
April 13, 2019

9:00-11:00

Panel 3.

Reflection on Fleck's Ideas: Interpretation and Adaptation across the Fields

Nina Kalwa (TU Darmstadt):

Thought style and communicative practices - Linguistic approaches to epistemic cultures

Ralf Klausnitzer (Humboldt University of Berlin):

Thought Collectives and Thought Styles in Modern Philology. On Ludwik Fleck's Concepts in Literary Studies

Oleh Shepetyak (Kyiv Borys Hrinchenko University):

Ludwik Fleck and Thomas Kuhn: Similarities and differences in two concepts of the philosophy of science

Discussant: Andriy Dakhniy (Ivan Franko National University of Lviv)

Moderator: Volodymyr Sklokin (Ukrainian Catholic University)

11:00-11:30

Coffee-break

11:30-13:30

Panel 4.

Keeping, Sharing, Translating: Fleck's Legacies

Hartmut von Sass (Collegium Helveticum / Institute for Advanced Studies, Zurich):

Are There Scientific Revolutions? A Fleckian Perspective

Paweł Jarnicki (Warsaw University of Technology):

What is a "mood"? About translating of "Stimmung/nastroj" into English

Stefaniya Ptashnyk (Heidelberg Academy of Sciences and Humanities):

Reading Fleck as Linguist and Translator: Some remarks on language contact phenomena, language history and terminological problems

Discussant: Hans Jörg Rheinberger (Max Planck Institute for the History of Science, Berlin)

Moderator: Sofia Dyak (Center for Urban History of East Central Europe)

Sunday, April 14, 2019	13:30-14:00	Concluding Remarks, Prospects for Future Cooperation Moderator: Stefaniya Ptashnyk (Heidelberg Academy of Sciences and Humanities)
	14:00-15:00	Lunch
	15:00-17:00	City-walk – Fleck’s places with architects, historians, medicals Ihor Hul’ - Ihor Kosyk - Olha Zarechnyuk - Stefaniya Ptashnyk
	18:00-20:00	Public Program Lecture by Hans Jörg Rheinberger (Max Planck Institute for the History of Science, Berlin) Ludwik Fleck - Ein Pionier der Historischen Epistemologie / Ludwik Fleck - A Pioneer of Historical Epistemology
	20:30	Dinner
		City-walk (II) – Fleck’s places (tba)
		Departure

Organizing committee

Stefaniya Ptashnyk |
stefaniya.ptashnyk@adw.uni-heidelberg.de

Natalia Otrishchenko |
n.otrishchenko@lvivcenter.org

Sofia Dyak | s.dyak@lvivcenter.org

Olena Haleta | haleta@ucu.edu.ua

Photo credits:

1. Archiv für Zeitgeschichte Zürich, FD Thomas Schnelle / 1)
2. Urban Media Archive, Library of the Institute of Ethnology, Academy of Sciences of Ukraine