Summer School 2013

" Jewish History and Multiethnic Past: Discussions and Approaches to the Study of Society, Culture, and Heritage in East Central Europe"

July 14 - August 8, 2014

Center for Urban History, Lviv (Ukraine)

This course covers the period from the partitions of Poland through the Russian and Habsburg Empires, the Soviet Union and interwar Poland. Students will familiarize with the geopolitical results of Russia's westward and Austria's eastward expansions and will focus among other overarching themes on the shtetl, the unique East European Jewish habitat; on Hasidism, a Ukraine-born popular movement of religious enthusiasm; on the interaction between Zionists and Ukrainian nationalists in Galicia; on the development of Ukrainization and Yiddishization (or Ukrainian and Jewish korenizatsiia) in the 1920s and the situation of Jews in Poland in the 1920s; on the Holocaust and its aftermath; on Ukrainians and Jews in the dissident movement; and on Jewish-Ukrainian artistic and literary avant-garde and on Jewish-Polish historical scholarship. This course teaches students critical skills such as contextualization and primary source analysis, which will enable them to look beyond the conflicting national narratives. The participants will explore various ways of integrating Jewish issues into general East European history and the history of East Europe, Ukraine in particular, into a larger European context.

This course combines multi-media power-point presentations, in-depth study of documents, and interactive class discussions. Students' grades will be based on two 2-page long response papers (requirements for and samples of which will be made available separately), active participation in class discussions and a final in-class test in the form of 5 short essay-type responses.

Instructor:

YPS is the Crown Family Professor of Jewish Studies at History Department at Northwestern University (Chicago/Evanston) and the NU Center for Jewish and Israeli Studies. He is a winner of multiple grants and fellowships including NU Distinguished Teaching Award. He is a doctor honoris causa of the National University Kyiv-Mohyla Academy, a Fellow at the Harvard Ukrainian Research Institute, and a honorary visiting professor at the Free Ukrainian University in Munich. He authored four books, including Jews in the Russian Army, 1827-1917: Drafted into Modernity (2008), The Anti-Imperial Choice (American Association of Ukrainian Studies Book Award, 2009), Lenin's Jewish Question (2010) and The Golden Age Shtetl: a New History of Jewish Life in East Europe (2014). YPS taught at various universities in Israel, Poland, USA, Austria, and Ukraine, including Kyiv-Mohyla Academy and Harvard.

Readings:

All readings are students' responsibility and will be available for free download from the course web-site two months before the course starts. Given the intensity of your class schedule, it is highly advisable to read all the assigned articles and book chapters before the course starts.

Requirements:

You can submit your brief proposals for response papers any time starting from July 15 through August 1, 2014. The structure and topic of your final paper must be vetted by the instructor, who is available on-line 24/6. Bracketing of your grade:

30% class participation
 30% two response paper
 40% final paper

Interactive discussions will be incorporated into lectures. The response papers should be based on one, maximum on two articles or book chapters. Your footnotes/endnotes/bibliographies should fit the standards of CMS-16 (Chicago Manual of Style, 16th edition). Please be advised that all submitted papers will be processed through the anti-plagiarism "Safe Assignment" electronic database. Papers should be submitted in electronic format (make sure it is .doc only) to the instructors email address by the time they are assigned (early submission is welcome).
